MURDER'S HEROIC SACRIFICE KILLS

Herself Starving, Mrs. Prisco Gives Last Crumbs to Four Babies.

TOO PROUD TO BEG FOR FOOD

Family's Condition Is Discovered Too Late to Save Life of Mother.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Happy that her children, for whom she had sacrificed everything, even the last scrap of food had at last found friends, Mrs. Phyllis Prisco died at a Brooklyn hospital of starvation. Mrs. Prisco's husband has been dead some months and with four little ones, the eldest four years, the youngest four months old, to care for she labored day and night until she was taken ill.

Her pride prevented her from asking for aid so she saved what bits of food she could obtain for her little ones while she gradually grew weaker and weaker from the lack of food. The last bits of crusts went for the children's Christmas shoes and the next morning neighbors heard the crying of the little ones in the unfurnished room in which the mother and the children lived. They entered and found Mrs. Prisco dying and the children weak from the lack of food and from the cold. The police removed the mother to a hospital and the Children's Society took care of the little ones. When the physicians found that all hope for the mother was gone the little ones were sent for and Mrs. Prisco was assured that they would be cared for. They were happy again for they had had plenty of food and toys. Rosie and Katherine, the two oldest, were given a doll and a rag doll. Angeline clutched in her chubby hands a woolly lamb. Their troubles were forgotten in their momentary happiness and as they played with their toys on the floor beside the hospital cot the tired woman realized that their sufferings were over. And as she watched them playing there, smiling and laughing out of her eyes, the mother's heart was stilled, and the mother's sacrifice was complete.

TINKLING IN THE BUSY WORLD

The Banking Town of Old Lunenburg Is Coming to the Front.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

TINKLING, LUNENBURG COUNTY, VA., December 28.—Tinkling and all of this part of the "Free State of Lunenburg" is now in the busy world. Last Monday a day marked the beginning of the Virginia Railway, and the people here are enjoying it. By this mail they get the daily papers just a little after the noon hour, and they enjoy the Times-Dispatch as the day of it is not a little. A day's mail is a great luxury, especially since it brings The Times-Dispatch in good reading time.

Tinkling is destined to be one of the big towns of the Virginia Railway. Already it is putting on town, not to say city airs. The Bank of Lunenburg located here is one of the strong country financial institutions of the State. It is well offered and does a splendid business. Its total assets according to its last published statement amount to nearly $70,000.

A wonderful amount of business has sprung up here since the completion of the railway to this point. All manner of merchandise is sold. The place is being laid off in town lots and advantages are being offered to new industries. The splendid lumber regions afford a ample new market for wood-working establishments, and there is not a little local capital ready to take pot-luck with new capital from the outside in the development of the natural resources of the country surrounding.

Tinkling is going to be one of Virginia's up-to-date towns, and that in the very near future.

THE BANKS IN WISE

Wise County Bank in Good Shape—Trust Company May Reopen.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WISE, VA., December 28.—The Wise County Bank has a capital of $25,000, surplus and profits, $10,000, an average of deposits of $100,000. The officers are R. A. Ayers, president; W. B. Fulton, vice-president and cashier; E. B. McElroy, assistant cashier. The directors are R. A. Ayers, R. P. Barron, E. M. Fulton, C. F. Flannery and O. M. Vickers. There are two vacancies which will be filled at the next meeting of stockholders.

The bank has the absolute confidence of its customers, and they have not withdrawn their accounts on account of closing of the Interstate Finance and Trust Company at Big Stone Gap, of which General Ayers was also president. Its affairs are in good condition.

In this connection, it may be stated that it is learned here through reliable sources that the Interstate Finance and Trust Company, which recently closed on account of inability to procure sufficient cash to transact business, will most probably reopen its doors about the first of the year on a plan satisfactory to its depositors.

EVIDENCE CLOSED IN POWERS TRIAL

Defense Tries to Secure Exclusion of Testimony About Mountain Men.

COURT OVERRULES MOTION

After Reading of Instructions Court Adjourns Until Monday for Argument.

GEORGETOWN, KY., December 28.—In the trial of Caleb Powers for alleged complicity in the killing of William Goebel much time was taken up to-day in reading of official transcripts of this and former trials and in calling the jury's attention to alleged contradictions in the testimony offered at this and at former trials. Both sides closed rebuttal testimony to-day, thus completing the evidence in the case.

Attorney Wilson, for the defense, moved to exclude certain testimony as immaterial. This testimony related to the bringing of the "mountain army" to Frankfort, and to the acts and declarations of its members.

The motion concluded with a statement that Witness Henry Yontey is a self-confessed principal in the assassination of Goebel. Judge Morris, guided by the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals on former trials of the case, overruled the motion.

Judge Morris' instructions to the jury this afternoon were about the same as those delivered by Special Judge Robbins, at the third trial of Powers.

Court instructs that if the jury believes from evidence beyond reasonable doubt that Powers is guilty of being an accessory to a plot to kill Goebel, they should find him guilty and fix his punishment at death or life imprisonment. After the instructions had been read court adjourned until Monday, when arguments will begin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powers, mother of Caleb Powers, and his sister, Mrs. Roberta Green, will arrive Monday.

CHESTER HOLDING HER OWN

All Her Interests Have Fared Well in the Year Just Closing.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHESTER, VA., December 28.—This little town, lying nearly midway between Richmond and Petersburg, and on a higher elevation than the city of Richmond, continues to grow and expand. During the past year a number of dwellings have been erected, and its population increased. Its location on the line of the Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk and Western, Seaboard Air Line, Tidewater and Potomac Rivers, makes it one of the most convenient places for country life to any having business in the cities or abroad as a home for ingress and egress. Its water, good, nice church buildings, embracing Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian and Baptist, and remarkable healthfulness combine to make it a typical home for families.

Chester is located here a large planing mill and lumber plant, which has done a fine business, and which, under increased capital and improved business arrangements, hopes to greatly increase its output in 1938. The shops of the Tidewater and Western road are located here, and the Crystal Lithia Water bottling and ice plant is doing a good business. The lack of a stream of large size is the only drawback to the way of a manufacturing centre, but there are enough small streams to supply needed water for some enterprises. All the merchants doing business here are making money, and the Chesterfield County Bank, established here a little over a year ago, has made a fine showing and its stock is in demand.

Railroad stations, telegraph and telephone lines, a barbers shop, no saloons, churches, Masonic and Odd-Fellows' halls, a high school, all combine to make it a most desirable place for any who have business in the cities.

VICTORIOUS VICTORIA

Seat of Virginian Railway Shops to be Busy Virginia Town.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

VICTORIA, VA., December 28.—The present western terminus of the Virginian Railway and the seat of the shops and roundhouses of that company is Victoria, and it is destined to be one of the big towns of Virginia. The railway company is spending a great deal of money in the erection of its shops here, and as a natural result a large amount of business is being done here. A business centre of no mean importance. However, it is not dependent upon the railway shops, although they, with the many new citizens in the way of employees which they attract, are a great help.

Victoria is surrounded by a magnificent farming and lumber country, and is certain to be one of the largest shipping points on the Virginian Railway.

Already it is a town of considerable importance, and a vast deal of business is being done here.

Stores and factories are bobbing up on every corner, and home-building is going on at a rapid rate. It is likely that 100 mechanics and 100 carpenters busy building stores, factories and private residences. This estimate does not include the small army of builders employed by the railway company in the erection of the shops and the homes of the company's employees.

Churches and school houses are also being erected, and within a year Victoria will be a town of which all Virginians will be proud.

SUE ON REPUDIATED BONDS

Governor Glenn Says They Were "Concocted."

NEW YORK, December 28.—Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina, in a letter received to-day, replying to a communication from Edward L. Andrews, who represents holders of $11,000,000 of the bonds of the State of North Carolina, which matured three years ago, and were never paid, declared that the Legislature has twice repudiated the bonds, and that the State would not pay one cent for them.

Governor Glenn declares that North Carolina has acted fairly with its creditors, but that it would not pay for bonds "concocted in sin and brought forth in iniquity."

Mr. Andrews urged that a settlement be effected, stating that arrangements were being made to donate $5,000,000 of the bonds to a foreign government for the purpose of a suit, since, under the law, individuals cannot sue a State. The question of payment of the bonds has been the subject of much of international litigation. The payment of the bonds was declined because it was urged that the agent who disposed of the bonds failed to make proper return to the State.

THREE SPEECHES IN DAY FOR TAFT

Secretary of War Has Busy Program for His Boston Visit.

Principal Address Will Be Made in Evening at Merchants' Association Banquet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Secretary Taft is to have a busy day during his stay in Boston next Monday, he having no less than three distinct engagements of a semi-public character, at all of which he is expected to make addresses.

Monday morning at half past ten he will attend the Boston ministers' meeting. In the afternoon at three there will be a reception at the Elysium Club made up of Jewish bankers and merchants, at which Mr. Taft will speak briefly, and in the evening he will deliver an address at the banquet of the Merchants' Association at the Hotel Somerset.

In Boston Secretary Taft will make his headquarters at the home of his cousin, Samuel Carr, at 43 Commonwealth Avenue, where he will stay with the members of the family. The great portion of Tuesday Secretary Taft will spend at Millbury, the former home of his mother, to which place he will go Tuesday morning.

Here he expects to pay a visit to Miss Della C. Torrey, a life long companion and friend of the secretary's mother. Mr. Taft will remain at Millbury until four o'clock in the afternoon, when he will return to Washington by way of Providence. He will leave for Boston at 5:35 P. M. to-morrow.

HAD LIVELY MAN-HUNT

Negro After Smashing Bottle on Another Flees for Safety.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

TINKLING, VA., December 28.—While all the colored population were enjoying themselves Christmas Day J. H. Filippin, one of the number, betook himself to the quarry settlement, and up the road he visited the house of Lewis Hamilton, a negro driver, while they were serving cake, wine, whiskey and other "soft" drinks.

Dan Thompson was among those present. He and Filippin became engaged in a fight, in which Filippin hit a large part of the ear of Thompson. Thompson, of course, was busy all of this time, and beat Filippin over the head with a quart bottle of whiskey, which broke and lost the whiskey, and cut the face and head of Filippin so as to entirely spoil his countenance. The friends of Filippin got together and organized a man-hunt to find Thompson, who had fled and surrendered himself to the authorities. But for that it is feared he would soon have been found dangling in the air.
